Dear Readers,

with our new edition of the DAAD Jakarta Newsletter we would like to keep you informed about the activities of our office in 2017. We sincerely hope you enjoy the information and as always, we are looking forward to your comments and suggestions.

Let me first introduce myself. My name is Thomas Zettler. I am the new director of DAAD's branch office in Jakarta since February 2018. Before I came to Jakarta, I worked for 15 years in the DAAD's head office in Bonn, mainly in the field of scholarships for students and scientists from abroad as well as for German students and scientists going abroad. During the last few years in Bonn, I was heading a section in DAAD's Transnational Education (TNE) division, dealing with the establishment and development of a German-Turkish university in Istanbul, Turkey. In the past I had the chance to visit Indonesia and the region of Southeast Asia several times, and now I am very pleased to be here for a longer period of time. Together with our friends and partners from Indonesia and the region, I sincerely hope to create new ideas towards improving the already-existing excellent ties between German and Southeast Asian universities and developing our activities and programmes. Your input is always welcome and we will be glad to meet you personally or communicate via e-mail or telephone — be it for the exchange of information, ideas and opinions or for consultation on study and research in Germany.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my predecessor, Dr. Irene Jansen, very much for her huge contribution to DAAD's work in the region. All the best to you, Irene, and "Sampai bertemu lagi di Jakarta!"

2017 - A Year to Remember

2017 has been a great year for the DAAD Jakarta. There were plenty of memorable moments and events, those which we organized ourselves, and those organized by other institutions across the country.

Seven scientific seminars were carried out by our alumni and were supported by the DAAD. The titles of these seminars are as follows:

- May: 2017 Conference on Health Management in Post Disaster-Recovery. "Strengthening Healthcare System Capacity to Disaster: Towards a Sustainable Risk Reduction, Universitas Syiah Kuala, Aceh
- July: ASIAN PGPR International Conference for Sustainable Agriculture, Research Center for Biology, Indonesian Institute of Sciences (LIPI), Bogor
- August: The 2nd International Conference on Life Sciences & Biotechnology (ICOLIB), Universitas Jember, Jember
- September: International Workshop and Conference focused on Inter-Professional Health Education (IPHE), Universitas Hasanuddin, Makasar
- November: The 9th International Seminar of the Indonesian Society for Microbiology (ISISM 9), Universitas Sriwijaya, Palembang
- November: Joint Conference: CONMEDIA 2017 4th International Conference on New Media and ICON-SONICS 2017 International Conference on smart cities. Automation and Intelligent Computing Systems, Universitas Multimedia Nusantara
- November: 2017 International Conference on Broadband Communication, Wireless Sensors and Powering (BCWSP 2017), Universitas Mercu Buana, Jakarta

The opening ceremony of CONMEDIA 2017, organized by Universitas Multimedia Nusantara, November 2017

We also managed to hold three alumni meetings as follows:

- May: We successfully held a seminar on Research Grants for Doctoral Candidates in Germany followed by an alumni dinner as well as a little farewell party for our former DAAD lecturer at Universitas Negeri Yogyakarta, Ms Svenja Völkert.
- August: One alumnus, Bapak Dr. Robert Bara, presented the cooperation project between Universitas Sam Ratulangi Manado and ZMT Bremen, that he has been involved in.
- October: Farewell and welcome party for the outgoing and incoming director of the DAAD's branch office in Jakarta

The former Indonesian President and DAAD Alumnus, Eyang Prof. Habibie, giving a speech during the farewell and welcome party for the outgoing and incoming director of DAAD Regional Office Jakarta, Oct 2017

DAAD Jakarta was also present at 29 education fairs, which were carried out by the following universities, schools and other institutions: Ministry of Finance of Republic Indonesia, Wisma Jerman Surabaya, Goethe-Institut Jakarta, BINUS school, IPB, SMA Kolese DeBritto Yogyakarta, ITS, SMA Kolese Gonzaga Jakarta, SMAN 1 Manado, Universitas Sam Ratulangi Manado, Universitas Sultan Ageng Tirtayasa Serang, SMA Elyon Surabaya, Sekolah Pelita Bangsa Cirebon, Goethe-Institut Bandung, SMA Kolese Kanisius Jakarta, Sekolah Pelita Harapan Karawaci, Sekolah Menengah Cikal-Amri Setu, SMA Santa Laurensia Serpong, European Higher Education Fair in Yogyakarta, Jakarta and Palembang, Universitas Pattimura Ambon. The total number of visitors at these 29 events was 69.370.

The DAAD Science talks have been held twice with different topics:

- April: The DAAD lecturer at Fakultas Ilmu Budaya, Universitas Indonesia, Dr. Marco Stahlhut, talked about A Secular Ethic for Multicultural Societies? - Perspectives of a European Trained Humanities Lecturer. The newly-selected scholars of the DAAD Annual Scholarship programme were invited as special guests and received their scholarship awards. The event took place at the Goethe-Institut Jakarta
- December: Our DAAD alumnus and dean of Fakultas Ilmu Administrasi, Universitas Indonesia, Prof. Eko Prasajo, was invited as the speaker of our second DAAD Science talk. He delivered his presentation on Peta politik dan dinamika kampanye pemilihan umum Jerman 2017. Perbandingan peran dan fungsi partai-partai di Jerman dan di Indonesia in Bahasa Indonesia.

Web-based seminars or “webinars” are very useful programs in Indonesia, being the world’s largest archipelago. They are an excellent platform for sharing information about study and research in Germany because participants do not have to travel and can easily follow from their home screens as long as there is good internet connection. Webinars are usually live and interactive, which allows participants to listen to the presenter and view the online presentation on their computers without having to be in DAAD’s office in Jakarta. We organized 27 webinars on a wide range of subjects during 2017, 11 of them in cooperation with German universities promoting themselves in Indonesia.

Facebook and Twitter are also very important social media tools for sharing information. We have at least one post on Facebook and Twitter everyday. Our Facebook Fans and Twitter followers have been increasing daily. Our social media fans are not only from Indonesia, but from across the globe. By the end of 2017, the number of our Facebook fans had risen sharply to 20.399 - twice more than last year, while the number of Twitter followers rose to 4.100. On the 1st of January 2018, we established an Instagram account. By the end of February, our Instagram followers already reached 2.856. In cooperation with the Department of Communication of the DAAD in Bonn, we relaunched a new website with a brand new look last June 2017.
